The Republican Demonstration.

Ever since Tuesday night, when the first news of the great republican victories in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio, flashed over the wires, republican enthusiasm has been rising higher and higher in our city, until last night it culminated in a grand demonstration, when our friends manifested their joy in processions, illuminations, the firing of guns, public speaking, bonfires and songs.

It was a good time—a grand old time—such a time as manifests truly the deep feeling which the people have in the contest which is to close in a few weeks.

At 7 o'clock the gun squad, under the direction of G. S. Strasberger and D. McDougall, fired one gun to give notice that it was time for the people to assemble at the public square. The evening, though cool, was pleasant, and the inhabitants of our city—men, women and children—soon began to gather upon the sidewalks, in the streets, and at available points of observation.

Though the notice of the celebration was short, a large number of stores, offices and private dwellings were illuminated. We give below as complete a list as possible of those who, in this way, added so much to the interest of the scene:

Lapin's Hall, Gazette office, law offices of S. A. Hudson, Geo. B. Ely, Bennett, Cassaday & Gibbs, H. N. Comstock, Williams & Achilles, I. C. Jenks, W. Merrill, H. K. Whitton, Isaac Rogers, Eldredge, Pease & Rager, E. Harwood, Knowlton, Richardson & Jackson, Sleeper & Norton and Wm. M. Tallman; offices of Drs. Treat & Gregory, Dr. Palmer and Dr. Corryell; E. R. Roger, County Surveyor's office, Dearborn's Bookstore and Bindery, E. D. Bontman's music store, S. C. Spaulding's jewelry store, Dr. Barrow's drug store, B. Bornheim's clothing store, Colwell & Co.'s drug store, Farmer's Mill by Jackson & Alden, J. M. May's office, Dearborn's grocery, Thompson's tailor shop, John White's barber shop, front room in Empire block over Dr. Palmer's office by Wm. Tallman.

The private residences of T. Jackson, J. A. Sleeper, Dr. Bailey and Dr. Treat, were handsomely illuminated, and probably others not noticed here.

There was also a large bonfire on the public square, which with the illuminations of the streets, scattered a blaze of light over the city, and rendered the scene one of great beauty.

The Wide Awakes were out in large numbers, accompanied with martial music. Their display was the finest and most spirited which has occurred during the campaign. Capt. McLean, his officers and men, in drill, manoeuvres and marching, surpassed themselves, and won numerous compliments from the crowds of ladies and their escorts, and citizens who thronged the sidewalks. They marched through many of the streets of the city, and cheered the various places which were illuminated. We acknowledge nine hearty cheers for the Gazette office, for which they have our thanks.

While the procession was proceeding on its way, amid the huzzas of the people, sixty-three guns were fired in honor of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana—one for each electoral vote secured by the splendid victory of last Tuesday.

After the street parade, the Wide Awakes and a large number of people proceeded to the public square, where a meeting was organized by appointing H. N. Comstock chairman. This meeting was a large one, composed mainly of our own citizens, with their wives, daughters and sons. The whole square was ablaze, and with the torches of the Wide Awakes, was nearly as light as day. The audience was one of the largest and most respectable ever assembled in our city, and by its hearty enthusiasm and good order, showed that our community is alive to the great importance of the political issues of the day.

The speakers were Messrs. Sloan, Williams, Haws, Cassaday and Peterson. They, too, had caught the enthusiasm of the occasion, and spoke with great effect. These are some of our home speakers, whom we are in the habit of hearing frequently, and who are all good talkers. But on this occasion they even surpassed their usual efforts, and their irresistible logic and good hits, were promptly responded to by an appreciative and wide awake audience. It was decidedly the best political meeting we have ever had in the city, and is a sample of what we can do among ourselves, if we try. We trust we shall have more of them before the campaign is over.

The speeches were interspersed with songs by the Wide Awake Glee Club, the members joining in the choruses, which added much to the interest of the occasion. It has been noticed that when a people are victorious and marching forward to a certain triumph they have an irresistible desire to express their joy in songs. So it is now with the republicans—they are full of joy and enthusiasm at the glorious prospect before them, and every body can sing, because their hearts are full.

So passed and ended our demonstration in honor of the victories of the republicans of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. It was got up with out much effort, passed off happily and well, and equalled in number, if it did not exceed, the Douglas demonstration of the afternoon, with the Great Squatter himself for the attraction.

ENTIRELY SAFE!—The Democrat is entirely safe from any danger incident to the possession of modesty. It attributed the illumination of the Gazette office, Wednesday evening, to the visit of George B. Smith to make a democratic speech in the court room, and now appropriates to itself the cheers of the Wide-Awakes last evening given to Jackson & Alden and the occupants of Tallman's block who illuminated to greet the telling victories in Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania. Because our neighbors have got into the vicinity of good company, it is no necessary consequence that they enjoy the respect of good citizens. Still, "we cannot find it in our hearts" to utterly condemn the instinct which prompts even the vicious to desire or appropriate the approval of the virtuous.

A man and wife of Cook county, Ill., cut 30 acres of oats and 5 acres of wheat and barley, and 32 of hay, which they stacked. When threshed, there were 1,700 bushels of oats and 100 of wheat and barley.—They live in the town of Rich.

EASILY SATISFIED.—The Democrat, which has not yet found any "positive result" in the recent state elections, is wholly satisfied with the Douglas demonstration yesterday. It declares:

"In conclusion, we have but to say that we are proud of the demonstration of yesterday. It was an honor to Judge Douglas and it was creditable to the democracy of Rock county."

So happy a disposition to make the best of a bad thing is in strict consistency with the vision which saw more than double the number of people in front of the Hyatt House; extends a 15 minute speech into a half hour "unanswerable argument," and sends away the republicans who listened to the spiritless harangue of his disheartened chief, which consisted mainly of brief extracts from his Chicago speech, enforced by the solemn announcement of the division of the church (1) into which he was born "evidently impressed with the forcible truth he was uttering;" to "have their influence upon the hearts and minds" of his "candid" hearers. "The greatest living statesman of the age" could not himself, with all his unequalled capabilities in that respect; be more "jolly" under discouraging circumstances than his "umble" followers of the Democrat.

GOING SOUTH.—The Chicago Herald and Times publishes Mr. Douglas' appointments after leaving Wisconsin. He commences at Memphis on the 24th, and works his way thence into Alabama and Georgia, his "last appearance" being at Mobile the 31st of November, the day before election.

One of the democratic organs calls his "stumping" operations, "Douglas' routes." Thus far his "route" through the free states has been followed by his rout, and his last hope is in the slave states. Undoubtedly, in his desperate chances, he will "cut it thick" for slavery, and give a straight southern aspect to all his speeches, without the free phrase of his popular sovereignty dogma with which he entertains a northern audience.

Uses of Fruit.

PUMPKIN SAUCE, No. 1.—Prepare pumpkin for as stewing, only cut finer; put in a kettle and pour over it the same quantity of sugar as you have of pumpkin, and apples; cook the same as for apple sauce. If you wish to use it at tea-time, stir in a little sugar previous to sending it to the table. It can hardly be known from apple-sauce.

No. 2.—Prepare the pumpkin as in No. 1. Add three pounds of brown sugar to ten pounds of pumpkin; pour on it a little water, and stew until the raw taste disappears, but not enough to break the pumpkin into bits. When done flavor with lemon.

No. 3.—Same as No. 2, only use molasses instead of sugar, and add white wine with cinnamon. This sauce answers a very good purpose, and when apples are scarce, is well worth a trial.

APPLE PRES.—Take sour apples that cook well, stew, sweeten, and spice with lemon, nutmeg or cinnamon. Add a little butter while the apple is hot. Make a good puff paste, roll it quite thin, and cut it in strips about three inches wide. On one half of the strips put the apple, a spoonful in a place, leaving room enough between to cut the paste. Cut small openings in the upper crust directly opposite the apple, lay these strips over the others, and cut through both thicknesses of paste, either with a gauge tumbler or a common cake-cutter. Bake in a moderate oven, and if the paste is good it will be very light.

TOMATOES IN A NEW STYLE.—The Har-

risburg (Pa.) Union says: Take good ripe tomatoes, cut them in slices, and sprinkle over them finely pulverized white sugar, then add claret wine sufficient to cover them. Tomatoes are sometimes prepared in this way with diluted vinegar, but the claret wine imparts to them a richer and more pleasant flavor, more near resembling the strawberry than anything else.

PEACH PRESERVES.—A lady of Philadelphia, whose peaches bear beautifully and retain much of their delicious flavor, takes half a pound of sugar to a pound of peaches. The sugar is put in the peaches, and with half a pint of water to every pound of sugar, heated, and the surface skimmed. Into this syrup the peaches, after being pared, are placed, and boiled ten minutes. The peaches are then put into cans while hot, and immediately sealed.

PICKLING SWEET APPLES.—To a half peck of sweet apples, make a syrup of two pounds of sugar and one pint of vinegar. Boil the apples in this syrup until tender; then remove them to a new syrup of two and a half pounds of sugar and one pint of vinegar. Add one tea-spoonful of cloves, and one of cinnamon, tied in a bag. Let the syrup boil fifteen or twenty minutes, and then pour it while hot, over the fruit. The first syrup is good for other uses.

PANSIES.—Are sometimes kept out during the winter in this climate successfully, by simply putting a box about them and covering with leaves. They come up in the spring self-sown and make fine plants. This plan will be more likely to succeed in dry soils than in wet. It is not safe to risk where the soil is moist. But the safer mode to secure these desirable flowers in early spring, and the plan more common among the most successful gardeners here, is to mark the finest flowers at blooming, and save the seed of the same; or, in case they were not marked, save the largest plump seed from the finest and most vigorous, and Johnny-jump-up, and next February, plant the seed in good soil in flower pots or boxes in shade. Be careful not to cover too deep. Only slightly cover with fine soil, if you cover at all. The seed can be sown thick and the plants transplanted into a pan or larger box, giving them more room, until the frost is out of the ground, when they may be transplanted to the border. They repay the trouble of the first transplanting, if sown thickly at first.

This mode is usually attended with less trouble and less risk than if the seed is sown at this season in cold frames for early transplanting. In the central and southern portion of this state they will be more likely to succeed in the cold frame than here. It is a good plan to harden the plants, or acclimate them when sown in pots in doors, by setting them outside on the window sill a few days before transplanting to the border.—Patriot Farmer.

How SUNDAY IS OBSERVED IN PARIS.—

The Paris correspondent of the Times remarks: The Sabbath, I think, is less observed in Paris, in some respects, than I remembered it ever to have been. It is certainly no holiday for the masons and bricklayers. On the Boulevards des Capucines, in the Rue Vivienne, and in various other important thoroughfares, butting goes on upon Sunday just as on other days.

A little fellow four years old clung to his mother the other day by making the following inquiry: "Mother, if a man is Mister, ain't a woman a Mistress?"

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

READING, Pa., Oct. 12.

The regular democratic state committee of which Welch is chairman, met in this city to-day and adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That this committee do hereby rescind its action at Philadelphia on the 2d of July and at Crestline on the 9th of Aug., and that we recommend to the democratic party of Pennsylvania to stand by the electoral ticket made by the democratic state convention at Reading on the 1st of March. Amendments recommending a conference with the Bell and Everett party, and the application to the democratic state convention at Reading on the 1st of March. Amendments recommending a conference with the Bell and Everett party, and the application to the democratic state convention at Reading on the 1st of March.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.

Private advices from San Francisco repeat that General Sherman has and every other town save Hermasille where Pasquerra was fortifying for a last desperate battle. Capt. Callender of the ordinance department was obliged to transfer his command to the Benicia arsenal to the next command and report himself to Washington. Thus & Co., of New York have been informed they can hold the Arizona mines under the Mexican mines for supporting the war.

The New York Tribune of Thursday contains returns from 49 counties, which give an aggregate majority for Curtin of 22,721. There are 17 counties to hear from which will carry the majority to near 30,000—a dispatch says 32,000.

We have nothing new in regard to congressmen. They will probably stand 20 republicans to 5 democrats.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.

The official count this morning shows the election of John M. Butler (rep.) for congress in the first district over Lehman, by 185 majority.

The vote of the first congressional district has been thrown into court for judicial examination. Mr. Lehman, the democratic candidate, tested the case, and had examined the returns of the judges of several precincts in the eighth ward, which gave him a majority of 555. It was also testified that this was the majority counted up by Lehman at the meeting of the judges of the fourth ward, while the returns presented by Byrley, the return judge from the ward at the official count this morning only gave Mr. Lehman 229 majority, thus defeating him.

OHIO.

COLUMBUS, 12.

Cox official maj. in this district is 383 over Spangrow. Brinkerhoff, Gallaway rep. 41 counties reported Brinkerhoff gains 3,000 on Dennison maj., his majority will be over 18,000. Congress delegation stands 13 republicans, 8 democrats.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.

Returns from seventy-four counties gives Lane 14,224 majority, a gain over Willard's vote in 1856 of 17,362. The majority for Cox in the remaining counties should vote is 5,872. Lane would have 11,480 majority. It cannot fall much short of 15,000.

NEBRASKA.

Election returns of the territory come in slowly. The democrats claim that their candidate, Morton, is elected by 200 majority, and both houses of the legislature, a democratic, while the republicans claim a majority for Daily and both branches of the legislature as republican.

The Market.

New York, 13th.

Flour market excited and fully 10c higher. Sales 4000 bbls, 5,40a5.50 super, 5,60a5.72 extra super, 5,40a5.50 super western. Wheat market 3a5c higher. Sales 20,000 bu, 1,23a1.25 Chicago spring, 1,32a1.33 Mil. club, 1,37a1.40 winter red, white Ind, 1,35 white Michigan.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 13.

Wheat market opened very dull and heavy this A. M., large dealers buying off entirely, a few sales effected at irregular prices with extra as low as 91 and no. 1 at 88. Scarcity of vessels and money and large receipts conspire to depress the market which up to the meeting on change was very better. The N. Y. despatches is bringing better prices, rallied on change and market became more settled at 91 for no. 1 and 89 for no. 2. Flour is dull and heavy but somewhat revived by the N. Y. market.

An Indiana correspondent of the N. Y. Times gives the following stamping feat of Owen Lovejoy:—

"His famous jury trial is the most daring and brilliant exploit in the annals of popular oratory. Being in 'Egypt' he unparaltered and swore twelve men out of the jury, and proceeded to defend the republican party on a general democratic indictment in due legal form. Nine of his jury were Douglas men, but being men of character and under oath, they were forced to answer on their consciences, and the jury returned a unanimous verdict of Not Guilty. That speech did make a number of converts."

EVERY MAN HIS OWN INSURER.—The following suggestions to housekeepers, merchants, and those erecting new buildings, may not be valueless:

Keep matches in metal boxes, and out of the reach of children. Wax matches are particularly dangerous, and should be kept out of the way of the rats and mice. Fill fluid and camphene lamps only by daylight, and never near a fire or light. Far better discipline with them altogether. Do not deposit wood or coal ashes in wooden vessels, and be sure the cinders are extinguished before deposited. Never take a light or ashes under the stairs.

Never take a light to examine a gas meter. Be careful never to place gas or other light near curtains. Never take a light into a closet. Glass shades over gas lights in show windows, and do not crowd goods too near them.

No smoking should be permitted in warehouses or barns. Where furnaces are used, the principal register should always be fastened open. Build all chimneys from the earth. Store-pipes should be at least four inches from wooden work, and be by tin, and enter substantial brick chimneys horizontally.

NATURE PREACHING.—In many churches it has been the habit of late to place on the table immediately in front of the pulpit a vase of flowers, and those capable of appreciating so delicate an offering cannot fail to be impressed with the costliness of yesterday, however, in the Rev. Mr. Patton's church, at Roxbury, as a substitute for the usual bouquet, there was a very tasteful collection of autumnal leaves. The appropriateness of their presence was rendered the more striking by an impressive discourse from the pulpit, "We all go to bed as a leaf."—Boston Journalist, 1st.

DOUGLAS AT BELLOIT.—Mr. Douglas is expected to arrive at Beloit on Friday, on the 12 o'clock train from Freeport. He will remain about half an hour, and will make a short speech, probably at the depot.—Beloit Journal.

Mr. Douglas failed to meet this appointment. He probably supposed one speech in Rock county was all that he or the people could hear. In this belief, so far as he was concerned, he was fully justified by the effects of his effort in Janesville.

LOST.—On the 13th of Oct., a pair of gold spectacles. Any person finding them and leaving them at this office, will receive a suitable reward. daw

There will be the usual morning and evening services in the Congregational church on the coming Sabbath. Preaching by Professor Kelsey of Beloit.

It has been suggested to us that we were mistaken in stating that the cars did not depart with Mr. Douglas for an hour after he had closed his speech but that he did leave immediately. We were informed at the time as we stated, and supposed it was so. We have no desire to misrepresent him and we cheerfully make the correction.

MADISON MUTUAL INSURANCE CO.—Mr. G. F. Hastings of Madison, the general agent of the Madison Mutual Insurance Company, has been in our city for some days past adjusting losses sustained by persons residing in Rock county, and insured in this company. We are gratified to learn that this company is in a flourishing condition and that it sustains its reputation for liberality and promptness in paying its losses and in the general management of its business. As a home institution, we wish it entire success. Orrin Guernsey, Esq., of this city, is the general agent for Rock county.

WHERE WERE THEY?—Was a SLIGHT EXTENDED?—The "poster" and announcement for the Douglas celebration yesterday promised "other distinguished speakers" than the hero of the day. Some of the "democracy" hereabouts would like to know what became of the brilliant luminaries who were to surround the great center of attraction. They certainly did not speak, though there was abundance of time between the hours of arrival and departure. There are, too, inquisitive democrats who don't exactly understand why the "little giant," when his "distinguished" friends failed to make good the promise of the announcement, suffered the entire forenoon to pass away, and commence his own speech at such an hour that the notice of the conductor of the regular train which was to bear him to Fond du Lac restricted him to a 15 minute elucidation of his "great principle." It is possible that the orator considered him gave as good as he got—the speech being fully equal to his reception, and both nicely adjusted to the quid pro quo. He could better afford to give the weak democracy of Janesville a cold slice than dispense with the full entertainment in a stronger democratic locality. This is none of our bread and butter, to be sure, but the discrepancy between the promise and the fulfillment is not altogether complimentary to those of our democratic friends who need all the help their leader could give them.

IN CHARACTER.—The Daily Democrat of this morning caricatures the republican demonstration last evening, and indulges in a very fanciful description of the style and manner of the speakers. Such a harmless exhibition can be overlooked in the brilliant success of the republican demonstration and the chagrin of the democracy over the mortifying failure of the Douglas meeting.

As a matter of consistency, we would ask the Democrat how it reconciles its complaint of our plain, truthful description of the reception of this "squatter" champion with its point-blank celebration of one of the best impromptu celebrations ever witnessed by our citizens.

A NATURAL MISTAKE.—The following dialogue between two Emerald Islanders at the Douglas demonstration here on Friday is not too good to be lost.

Whist Douglas was speaking one of them says to the other: "That's not much of a speech Pat," "whist," says Pat, "that's only Ginneral McManman, sure, Douglas was not out soon, and then you will hear some speaking."

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mrs. Folds, who has lost a gold locket and chain.

The Democrat informs us that John Williams is not one of the editors of that paper. We thought John had too much sense for that.

On the Memory of Wm. Zull,

JANESVILLE, LATELY DECEASED.

He died, as he had lived, beloved, Without an enemy on earth; In word and deed he breathed and moved The soul of honor and of worth.

His hand was open as the day, His bearing high, his nature brave; And, when from life he passed away, Our hearts went with him to the grave.

What desolation filled his home When death from them their treasure bore! Oh! for the better world to come, When they shall meet to part no more.

The hope of that sustains them now, In that they trust on benedict knees, While thus around his faded form We twine the wreath of memory.

The wheat market opened quiet this morning at $1.00 for milling spring, and $0.98 for shipping, and several loads at those figures, until about 11 o'clock when despatches were received showing a decline in the lake shore, when buyers lowered their views $1.00 per bushel.
